

Enemy Attacks: Discussion

Greetings to all our People and Satanic Comrades.

I wanted to open this discussion to clear some things in regards to enemy attacks and so we can lift darkness over the matter. Knowledge is most of the game when these things go.

A first thing I wanted to mention, is that people who advance and struggle to become better, because there are a lot of entities that do not desire it for numerous reasons, depending on one's skillfulness, character and life, may encounter attacks.

First and foremost, do not dwell on attacks. Do not open yourselves by tuning into them, giving attention gives power. Satan and the Gods protect us and so long you clean, protect and advance yourself, everything will be fine.

Then we have something else. Personal Karma. This can be accidents, misfortunes or issues of all kinds. Many of these come with life, packaged as one, and these can be overcome by new habitualization and consistent meditation.

On this basis the attacks of the enemy become stronger or weaker. A strong mind with good habits cannot be easily breached. One example is a person who always dwells on the negative, instilling terror is very easy. It is easier to destroy an avid drug user or criminal, than someone else.

For this reason we tell people to keep weakening and damaging habits on a minimal. They are only useless in your life. Of course transformation does not happen overnight, and most of the game revolves around changing your mind. This can take years, but it WILL happen if you persist. Even if you fail, do not give up.

Another thing that nullifies attacks is to minimize one's own mental clutter and lack of self awareness or attentiveness. Simply put, if you do not have self knowledge, start taking care of your thoughts, attention on yourself, and learn to control impulse. Many people are driven by extreme impulse, others have zero impulse. This needs a balance towards progression.

The enemy can easily flip over people but they rarely do by direct confrontation, unless they lose their patience or have completely failed to stop you. Of course they will retreat to other methods, especially if these work. One example is useless hyperinflation of the ego, or equally; a shrinking and trashing the human soul, both of which are disastrous.

Lastly we have fear, information and lack of knowledge. Fear is normal and acceptable, only insofar it's not cowardice or stupid.

Many people fear Satan, a few quit, other's give up. If you see it's always a conjunction of the points I mentioned above, and rarely anything else. The enemy has had a complete grip in the information of the world.

One example is how they tell people that a disease is a revenge from a jewish god, for example. Lack of knowledge foils the victim. Another example is confusion of the victim. For example, one has a misfortune. The enemy attacks and comes in and tells them it was them, or that the enemy did this.

Again, lack of awareness foils the victim. Another thing is very common where people read spiritual material without EXPERIENCE and KNOWLEDGE or a stable mind or awareness, ultimately making them lost etc.

Lastly one must know beyond any doubt that what we do is true. One can explore any thought and be free, but retardation comes with a price. Every attack and every pitfall shows you what needs to be fortified.

What does the enemy say? By the art of deception thou shall wage war. If they could end you, rest reassured they would have done. They cannot and won't. So most of it plays on deception, disinfo, etc.

One other thing isolation (among SS). Any isolated being is an easy target. Isolation brings weakness, no matter what the prospect of the 21st century preaches. Individuality does not imply complete isolation of a person. One can adjust how much socialization they want for example. On the other hand dealing with retards and wasting one's self around with people that don't seek to advance and are generally bad, is equally a disaster. So just have judgement because either way it can turn ugly.

It's not unlikely when people who are bad for one another meet, and delude one another, or on the other hand are even harmful. Through this small cults of personalities and infiltrators form, always ending up in disasters and delays for the people in them. This is a pure time waste. No need to waste one's life like that.

How is that solved? THE GROUPS. A necessary balance. You can socialize and post, but you don't get in most if not all of the dangers and issues involved about it. Even if something was to ever skip moderation (Which rarely happens) we are here to talk on it and deal with any such problems. If it escapes the attention of the mods, it will NOT escape the attention of the community, which will act accordingly to treat the situation. The community has a lot of experienced SS who are veterans and others who can notice these things from miles away.

The Groups, Forums, etc., help the Gods. How many times you have been guided to the answers of your concerns in groups, in posts etc.? This saves time and energy from the Gods, yourself, and advances our group faster.

Another example: one feels like they need a change. It's a general and normal human feeling. The enemy tells them to get out of the group, as if the group was the purpose, lol. Maybe stop meditating too goy, that will make you feel really good. While of course the minimal time spent here to educate or keep up really does nothing bad to a person whom, let's say, wastes hours on netflix. Ya goy, better leave and stop advancing maybe. Got to build these towers in Minecraft? WTF???

Another case is that of people who advance and start thinking they are a God or something. Too misunderstood by all dumb mortals here. We don't even deserve the help they never give. Our wisdom is so vast, that they do not even provide it. It was real, in their mind. Lest we fail to worship these people, they will leave. Ultimately taking from us... Uhm... Nothing. Since they are a parasite that never gave anything anyway.

No thing is useless in Satan's family, either. We need everything we have, bigger or smaller. So do not focus on the quantity, focus on the purpose. Things done for a great purpose are never small.

If you are in the jungle this cannot really happen and it takes an abominable amount of time. An example for this are gurus who meditate for two decades and cannot do the simplest Siddhi. A cave served nowhere, unless it's for a period or for recluse. Which is good under terms.

Quality association can be made in the groups. By each member rising in their own level, a greater unity is formed.

Satan's promises are true, one has to advance and meditate for themselves to see it. Doubts are for the most part, if you are a Gentile, normal but not always useful. Doubt for knowledge and spirit of inquiry is needed.

Chill back, relax for a while, learn to control your mind, and lastly fortify your mind and personality. Advance, keep steady and dwell on the good.

Lastly, we have to be realistic and focus on what we need to focus. Nothing worse than maintaining the mentality of a princess or SJW thinking you are a "God" as many dumb sects do, and when shit hits the fan, you cannot even tie your shoelaces. This is 99% of occultists, it doesn't have to be Satan's Children or the JoS. Dependable power is built on realism, testing, etc. etc.

We can relate experiences in this post to converse and unmask more of the enemy so people can read.

HAIL SATAN!
